Dear David,

We are so pleased to be bringing Carol Barnier to the conference this year. You are certain to enjoy her talks as she is known for sharing from the heart while making you laugh yourself sideways.

We're sending this note to you to let you know of a very unusual opportunity to hear Carol before the conference. Focus on the Family's Weekend Magazine is going to have Carol as a guest 5 times in the next 6 weeks. Three of those broadcasts are part of a three-part interview she has with Dr. Bill Maier where they discuss her book The Big WHAT NOW Book of Learning Styles. God blessed her with one very atypical learner and as a result, she has been collecting methods of teaching that work with an outside-the-box learner. Not only did she discover many workable ideas, but through the freedom of homeschooling, was able to use them all. Those ideas and more are what fill her books and bring to the conference.

The dates for the book-interview broadcasts are March 6/7, 13/14 & 27/28 (Saturday and Sunday) We hope you can catch them.

But there are also two other times you can hear on Carol on Weekend Magazine. She is a regular provider of thoughtful or humorous 5-minute commentaries. She's done quite a few of them to date, and there are two more queued up.

These run Feb 20/21st and Feb 27-28. (don't worry if missed hearing them on the radio. They're also on the Focus on the Family website. However, they're not so easy to find. we'll tell you how to get there below

So if you get the chance to tune your radio to the local Christian station these weekends, or you can check them out on line, have a listen. There's lots to talk about.

We're excited to share with you a great way to get a taste of the kind of enjoyable talks you'll hear later at the conference.
